Market Traders Institute, Inc. (MTI) Unveils Newest Release of Comprehensive Forex Education Package

Lake Mary, Florida – July 13, 2011 – Leaders in forex education, Market Traders Institute, Inc. (MTI) announced today the release of the latest version of their state-of-the-art forex education package, the Ultimate Traders Package on Demand (UTPOD). This new version introduces a fifth phase, to the existing four phases of forex education within the UTPOD, enabling traders to utilize automated trading systems.

In the ever-evolving forex market, automatic (or algorithmic) trading is becoming more and more common. A recent survey by InterbankFX reported automatic trading increased 40% over the last six years. In response to these market conditions, MTI has incorporated such automated trading systems into its latest release of the UTPOD.

“I feel that learning to trade can be likened to learning to fly a plane,” says FX Chief™ Jared Martinez, founder of MTI. “Students learning how to fly are not taught solely using autopilot, but rather by their instruments. However, there’s no shame in using autopilot as it can provide valuable assistance. Proper use of autopilot will keep your aircraft just where you should be. You can be at the top of your game when you become as comfortable flying with it as without it. Using automated trading systems in trading works exactly the same way.”

“We’ve taken 17 years of forex education experience along with the methodology from the technical analysis within the UTPOD and designed algorithms to give traders buy and sell signals,” said Jacob Martinez, MTI President. “Our goal has always been to teach traders to trade responsibly, and now with these new automated trading systems, the goal is no different.”

Within this new release, MTI has put safety precautions into place requiring UTPOD students to complete the initial phases of the education before unlocking the new automated trading systems. Thereby learning the foundation that every trader needs to know before entering the live market environment.
